Mégane Energy Limited Edition: Decidedly sporty

Renault is marketing a limited edition called Mégane Energy in order to meet the expectations of its "keener" fans. Matching its big sister, Mégane Renault Sport, for power and charisma, Mégane Energy delivers identical performance, at a more attractive price.

On sale from May 2, 2005, Mégane Energy is available in three- or five-door versions with 17-inch wheels and includes all of the "top-of-the-range" equipment available on the Mégane Renault Sport except for the following:

- Xenon headlamps (headlamp washers retained)
- 6 CD charger (replaced by a single CD)
- Tyre pressure monitoring system
- Metallic paint
- Leather door interior and central armrest
- Floor mat
- Hands-free Renault Card (electric, folding exterior rear-view mirrors retained)

Optional extras

- Metallic paint (€420)
- Sports chassis with 18-inch Be Bop wheels (€1,000)
- 18-inch Renault Sport wheels (€300)

Featuring the same 2.0 litre 16V turbo engine, producing 225hp, fitted to Mégane Renault Sport, Mégane Energy is very competitively priced: €26,700 for the three-door version and €27,150 for the five-door version.
